ANNUAL REPORT

EXTENSION 2018 PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Catherine Emmanuelle
Area Extension Director
Chippewa, Dunn, and
Eau Claire Counties

The Area Extension Director (AED) provides leadership, direction, and support for UW-Madison Division of Extension educational programming by building high-performing office teams of Extension educators and county support staff, and fosters an environment that is inclusive, trusting, respectful, and collegial. The AED is responsible for managing the resources for Extension by overseeing the Extension county budgets and budget allocations.

Agriculture and Natural Resources

Agriculture and Natural Resources Extension Program aims to make Wisconsin agriculture strong and competitive, while conserving and protecting natural resources. Education about agriculture, horticulture and natural resources protects our economy, our food supply, our natural environment and our future.

As an Agricultural Agent, Katie assists constituents in Dunn County to utilize UW research and information to solve problems and take advantage of new business opportunities. Her work with clientele looks to balance farm profitability and production of high quality food, horticultural crops, fiber, and plant material with protection of the natural environment.

EXTENSION 2018 PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

4-H Youth Development

The 4-H empowers youth in grades K-13 to reach their full potential while learning citizenship, leadership, and life skills. For more than a century, Wisconsin has been a leader in 4-H youth development. Members learn by doing; through projects, activities, and adult mentorship. Long term studies have shown that those who participate in 4-H are 4 times more likely to give back to their communities, and 2 times more likely to make healthy choices. That means that investing in 4-H makes good sense in both the short term and the long term.

Today's 4-H programs have a new focus on healthy living, personal growth, science, engineering, and technology. This work is done through the traditional 4-H community club program, and after school partnerships and other community youth programs. In 2018, Dunn County had 16 community clubs serving almost 400 youth, and 8 clubs based on interests like shooting sports, dogs, horses, and youth activities. These clubs were supported by over 130 trained and screened volunteers. Extension Dunn County co-sponsored Building Bridges with the Eau Claire Area Hmong Mutual Assistance Association. This is a weekly after school club for 30+ Hmong teens.

4-H Program Coordinator

Stephanie Hintz
Human Development and Relationships Educator

Human Development and Relationships

Strong family relationships and finances are the building blocks of our communities. Stephanie supports families and communities through programming that encourages growth and understanding in the digital age. As a source of well-researched information on topics related to parenting, family relationships, child development, aging, housing, and financial security, we provide positive and powerful training and tools that strengthen family bonds and enhance financial competence.

As a HD&R Educator, Stephanie serves all youth and families through parenting programming, positive youth development programming, mental wellness initiatives, and leading countywide needs assessments. She develops programs that are designed to strengthen families and individuals by helping to build strong relationships within supportive communities and improve outcomes for children, families, and society.

The Added Value of Extension

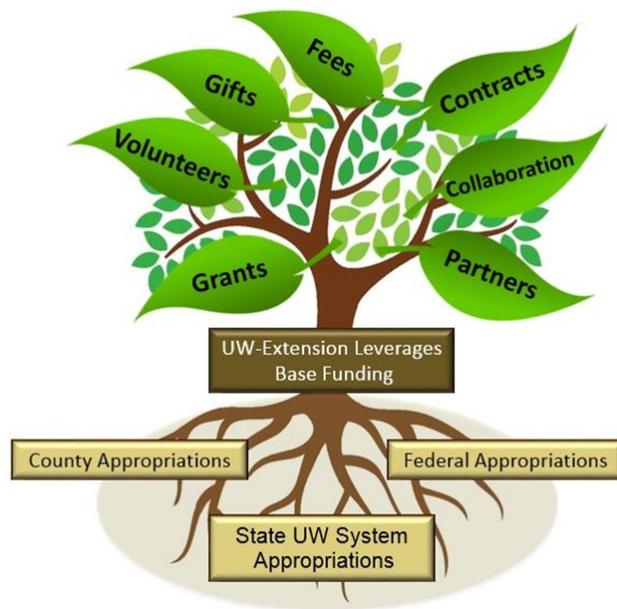

The work of Extension can be far-reaching because of our work to empower local volunteers. Extension Dunn County meaningfully engages volunteers to deliver high-quality educational programs, and has for a very long time, giving them the tools and confidence to extend the outreach of our programming. This investment in volunteers allows us to be good stewards of our state and county resources— creating greater citizenship engagement and increasing the work we can accomplish within Dunn County. Each volunteer is provided training in order to ensure the quality of the service they provide, increasing their commitment and their impact.

Each hour a volunteer serves is worth $24.69 in Wisconsin, according to Independent Sector, an organization that studies volunteer contributions to organizations. The graphs on this page represent the added value that our work with volunteers and the hours our volunteers provide to Dunn County. The added value of volunteers helps us provide more to the community. If you would like to learn more about our volunteers or what they do, please let us know!

What does UW-Extension mean to you? Your family? Your community? In tough economic times like we are facing today, you have been asked to take a hard look at what the county and the state can offer, and what those offerings mean to you and your community. As you work to build a flourishing, healthy community, Extension is here providing you a robust partnership to help you reach your goals. Like a growing tree, Extension draws upon its roots to provide the thick, strong branches that add the leaves of support and enrichment to Dunn County Constituents, as shown in the diagram to the right. In the 2018 Annual Extension Dunn County Report, we look forward to highlighting the support and enrichment we have provided to make Dunn County a thriving, healthy community.

SUCCESS STORIES

“Last year I was scared to sleep, but Luisa read us fun animal story books and I fell right asleep” - Cloverbud camper

“I don't know what I hoped to learn, but think many “tools in the toolbox” is beneficial. I feel Stephanie helped me to add tools.”

Katie Wantoch: Achievement Award at 2018 National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA) Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference

“I was very impressed with the knowledge of agriculture past, present and future that Katie shared and was able to answer all the questions brought up by the team. I plan to contact her with future questions I may encounter on agricultural topics. Katie is very professional and passionate about agriculture and the environment.”

“If that fruit wasn't at the checkout counter, I would not have bought it.” - A millennial customer referencing Sandy's convenience store project.

“I asked my mom to buy more fruits and vegetables instead of junk food. She let me pick out one of each and she helped me wash and cut them up to have in the refrigerator for snacks. She doesn't like fruits and vegetables and didn't buy them before I asked like Karen said to do.”

Federally Funded Nutrition Education Programs

FoodWise

- Section 3(d) of the Smith-Lever Act provides that The Secretary of Agriculture may fund extension work in the several states, territories, and possessions. Section 1425 of the National Agricultural Research, Extension, and Teaching Policy Act of 1977 (as amended) (7 U.S.C. 3175) is also known as the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP).

Extension Dunn County works alongside people of the county to deliver practical educational programs - on the farm, in schools, and throughout both urban and rural parts of the county. We empower families and communities by providing tools and guidance they need to adopt positive health behaviors. We run strong agriculture programs, to ensure farmers and families remain healthy, productive, and supported in the good times and hard times.

Whether on the farm or in the field, Extension Dunn County is on the front lines of modern agriculture, from animal management to crops and soils to financial planning, our local educators and vast access to state specialists and researchers help solve challenges that Dunn County growers and producers face.

We also support positive youth development - we are more than a "kids club." Our 4-H program provides diverse educational opportunities to prepare youth for success in critical thinking, decision making, goal setting, resilience, leadership, and more - all skills that contribute to healthy adult citizens and workforce development.

We also help support kids and parents in nutrition programming - a federally funded program that partners with Extension Dunn County. Our funding is a cooperative partnership between the county, state, and federal levels. We couldn't exist without the county partnership and we are grateful to be able to work with you to provide educational leadership that helps to transform lives and communities with the well-known and trusted university resource, best known as Extension.

Returning to UW-Madison

You may have noticed that we've changed over to the UW -Madison colors on our websites and our logos. From now on, our official name will be the University of Wisconsin-Madison Division of Extension, but you can continue to call us "Extension".

Our mission is not changing. We're committed to our work in local communities throughout the state. Our experts will continue to work with you every day to ensure cutting-edge research at the campus benefits the people of Wisconsin, our children and our communities.

As part of the UW System Restructuring project, Extension is returning to our historic home at UW-Madison. Thanks to joining forces with UW-Madison, we'll strengthen each other through exchanging experience and research statewide. No matter what you're trying to accomplish in Wisconsin, you'll find the support you need as we continue to bring our home state together, community by community.

One of the longest and deepest traditions surrounding the University of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Idea signifies a general principle: that education should influence people's lives beyond the boundaries of the classroom. Synonymous with Wisconsin for more than a century, this "Idea" has become the guiding philosophy of university outreach efforts in Wisconsin.

ACHIEVING MORE TOGETHER

Extension works alongside the people of Wisconsin to deliver practical educational programs—on the farm, in schools and throughout urban and rural communities.

Empowering families and communities
